

CONTENTS

PRAXIS ♦ BUSINESS LINE ♦ JANUARY 2003

VOLUME : 4 ♦ ISSUE : 1

Cover & Illustrations
Falguni Gokhale
Design Directions, Pune

Cartoons
Ravikanth Nandula

Design & Graphics
J.A. Premkumar

Issue Editors
Vinay Kamath
Sankar Radhakrishnan

4
The way we were, but no longer – Sankar Radhakrishnan

6
In good nick, and still growing – Sam Balsara
On the power and benefits of advertising

10
'Build brands with a personality – Sankar Radhakrishnan
Interview with brand guru David Aaker

14
Marketing's tomorrow – Shunu Sen & Anupam Yog
Understanding the changing marketing environment

18
The Connected Life – Ajit Balakrishnan
The future of online shopping and commerce

22
Are we ready for this? – M. Muhamed
A tongue-in-cheek look at CRM in the future

24
Outsourcing marketing – Chandu Nair
It's not just outsourced manufacturing anymore

28
Crafting customer-managed relationships – Patricia Seybold
It's no longer CRM, but CMR

34
The rebirth of marketing – S. Ramachander
Marketing is seeing a revival in a number of ways

38
Stealing the rural show – Pradeep Kashyap
Why haven't companies cashed in on opportunities?

44
Organised retailing, forging ahead – K. Radhakrishnan
The growth of modern formats

52
Earning customer loyalty – M. Muhamed
A company's most precious asset is the existing customer base

58
New, improved marketing – Harish Bijoor
The days ahead promise an exciting journey

62
Going global – K. Natarajan
New attitudes, sensitivity to other cultures are what global managers need

Feedback on this issue can be mailed to: bleditor@thehindu.co.in